Final Presentation and Q&A Peer Evaluation

Carbon Accounting Course Project

Course Weight	5% of the final course grade
Scoring	40% from instructor and 60% from peers use the same criteria

- Evaluate every group except your own group (Notice the Group Number in next page).
- Complete the scores after each group's presentation.
- Assess the quality of the presentation and explanation. Note that evaluation of the final calculator will take place separately after class.

Rating Guide

Excellent: 90-100% of available points; Strong: 75-89%; Developing: 60-74%; Limited: below 60%.

Evaluation Criteria

Criterion	Points	What Will Be Assessed
Client Needs and Product Value	20	The group clearly explains what the client needs are, how the calculator responds to those needs, and what value the product could provide to its intended user.
Product Demonstration and Strengths	30	The demonstration takes the audience through the calculator in a clear and logical sequence. It focuses on selected functions and results that best demonstrate the product’s strengths and explains how they respond to user needs or improve the user experience.
Reflection on Review and Revision	20	The group explains a specific issue, the revision made, the reason for it, and how it strengthened the product. A relevant limitation or lesson is recognized.
Communication Organization and Timing	20	The presentation is focused and understandable. Slides and the webpage are used effectively, group transitions are smooth, and the presentation stays within eight minutes.
Questions and Shared Understanding	10	Responses are concise, relevant and accurate, showing shared understanding of the calculator, its main carbon-accounting choices and limitations.
Total	100
